

10-15-21: “In Their Hands” Online Children’s Book Event

Jo Massaro

Do your little ones love books?

If so, you should check out “In Their Hands,” a free online book event for children hosted by Jo Massaro. Every day in October, a children’s author appears via video in the private Facebook group to read their book to the kids. Anyone who watches that day is eligible to enter a drawing to win a free copy of the book!

This is a great way to...

- Incorporate some literacy into your day
- Discover your new favorite author
- AND grow your child’s home library for free

I’m super excited to announce that I get to be part of this awesome event. My reading of Case of the Robbed Recipe will air on on October 15, 2021 at 10 am EST.

You can apply to join the group here! See you there!

P.S. If you join us on Saturday, you’ll get an exclusive look at the prototype illustrations which will NOT appear when books release to the public in Spring 2022.
